POISONED GIRL'S STORY MYSTERY IN WOMAN'S PLUNGE TO DEATH

SEC'Y COOK & CONFESS CALLED IN IN CASE

Castle Club of Auburndale Seeks to Compel Him to Issue Incorporation

Secretary of State Frederick W. Cook was served with a summons today to appear before the Supreme Court on Friday on mandamus proceedings to compel him to issue a certificate of incorporation to the proposed Castle Club, Inc., of Auburndale.

This is the latest move in a controversy that was fought out in the Aldermanic chambers of Newton for several months, when the original organization, the Castle Inn, was refused a victualers' license.

When the firemen arrived both buildings were blazing from end to end and flames and sparks were reaching toward nearby tenements housing poor families.

After sounding the alarm Kimbell ran through the halls of the nearest house, warning the occupants.

TO MURDER PLOT

Conspired to Slay Norwood Farmer and Helper and Rob and Burn Home

James A. Monahan, a nineteen-year-old farm hand on the farm of William P. Nickerson of Norwood, today confessed in the Dedham District Court that he, William P. Lambert, a youth of the same age, and Thomas F. Holland, twenty-six, had conspired to kill Nickerson and John Lundgren, another farm hand, sink their bodies in New Pond, rob the house, fire the premises and escape in Nickerson's automobile.

Their attempt was frustrated after a murderous assault on Lundgren had failed, and Nickerson, aroused by Lundgren's cries, had telephoned for the police.

AB pleaded guilty to attempt to commit larceny and was held for the grand jury. Lambert was also sentenced to a year in jail for assault. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6.)

RELATIVES DEMAND INQUIRY

Falls 35 Feet to the Ground
While Visiting a Roxbury Apartment

Rigid investigation is demanded by the family of Mrs. Annie Daley into the circumstances of her death plunging today from a third floor window at No. 2965 Washington street, Roxbury, in the stone paving of a side alley thirty-five feet below.

Mrs. Daley, who had been calling at the third floor apartment of Mrs. Helen B. Patch, was found dying in the alleyway by her brother-in-law, Daniel Shroeder, who lives in the second-floor apartment.

Mrs. Daley died in City Hospital six hours later.

Mrs. Shroeder, sister of the victim of the mysterious plunges from the window, says:

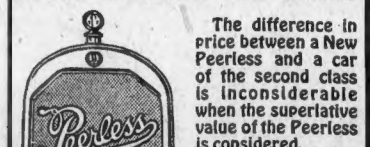

"We want a thorough probe of the whole affair. We would like to know what the police learned as to what occurred upstairs after my sister went up there."

"My sister never committed suicide, nor did she walk in her sleep. We want a full investigation. We shall appeal to District Attorney O'Brien if necessary."

Daniel Shroeder, Mrs. Daley's brother-in-law, says:

This window, I think someone was responsible. The police should investigate carefully."

QUESTION DOCTORS.

Physicians at the hospital will be questioned by the police and Medical Examiner Timothy Leary in effort to learn whether there were any injuries on Mrs. Daley's body other than she would have received by her fall.

Mrs. Daley was forty-two, and married, but was separated from her husband, John Daley, a railroad man of Charlestown, Wilmington.

For the past few years she had been a counter girl in the bakery department of the Martin restaurant on Hanover street. She lived at No. 7 Arcadia street, Roxbury, with her widowed mother, Mrs. Margaret Cutler.

The police say that after Mrs. Daley had been taken to City Hospital, she told them she jumped from the window. But her relative challenge that statement.

SAW BOTTLE OF LIQUOR

Mrs. Shroeder says she saw a bottle of liquor partly filled on the kitchen table in the Patch apartment when she went up there to ask her sister to come down to their apartment below. Her sister refused, Mrs. Shroeder says.

On the other hand, both Mrs. Patch and her son, Red H. Patch of Hartford, Ct., who was visiting his mother over the holiday, deny there had been any drinking party in their apartment.

The police say, too, that City Hospital doctors declared there was no indication that Mrs. Daley was under influence of liquor.

Mrs. Daley went to the Shroeder's for supper. She went up to the Patch apartment overhead later. Not Patch says that after supper

He thought the voice was that of Mrs. Daley, but he was not sure whether Mrs. Daley was upstairs in his mother's apartment when he got there or arrived a little later. Mrs. Shroeder, on the other hand, says her sister was in the apartment above at that time.

Mrs. Patch relates events thus: "Annie came to our flat and she and my son and I talked. About 11 o'clock Annie said: 'I don't feel well. I think I'll lie down and go home later.'"

WINDOW CLOSED.

"She went into my room, a side room off the hall, and laid down dressed as my bed. I went to bed on the parlor couch. Not went to bed in another room across the hall.

"The first thing I knew after that was when Mr. Shroeder called us, saying Annie had fallen out the window.

"When she went to bed the window was closed. The screen down, the lace curtains were fastened together at the bottom with a safety pin and the green shade was drawn down.

"Later I found the screen was knocked out, the window was open and two chairs were in front of the window."

Daniel Shroeder, who, with his father, Henry, found Mrs. Daley after her fall, said she was faintly meaning: "Mother, mother."

Shroeder said: "I had come home on the 2 o'clock car. I was getting ready for bed when I heard a crash on the floor directly overhead.

"A second or so later there was another crash and then came a third crash as Annie's body struck the pavement."

"I went to the window and saw a body below. I was terribly shocked when my father and I got down to find my sister below."

"I do not see how Annie could have fallen out the window. There is possibility, of course, that she walked in her sleep."

"There always used to be a chair before that window she went through and that would have blocked her if she had fallen and the window was shut, I understand."

"The police should investigate carefully."

RAYMOND COLL, managing editor of the Honolulu Advertiser, writes:

"Recently we contracted for the publication of your daily column, 'Today,' and our circulation during the short period we have published the column have been especially gratifying."

Very much obliged. This stuff is published across the line, in Vancouver; it's published in Spanish in El Mundo, R. I. It's even in the Havana newspaper, and now it travels out in the Pacific to Hawaii. Seventy cities in this country publish this column. What a pity it is not better worth reading!

PROFESSOR IMBEAUX tells the French Academy of Belles-Lettres that the Desert of Sahara covers a vast belt of "artesian waters." These wells could reclaim the entire desert, making it a garden and wiping out one of the worst disease spots on the globe. The job would cost $100,000,000 less than France has wasted in the Ruhr. A mere nothing compared with the cost of war.

Wraith that the world needs must be taken out of the ground. It cannot be squeezed by one nation out of the world. France might get from Sahara's sands more than she will ever get from Germany.

S. W. STRAUS, just back from Europe, has done more than any ten others to promote and make possible the building needed in this country. He and his father before him have invested for the people many hundreds of millions of their savings, and no investor has lost a dollar. If every railroad builder could say as much there would be fewer people in poorhouses.

MR. STRAUS brings news of a building boom in slow-going London.

In New York and other great cities, he says, the building of executive private dwellings is about ended. Business buildings will gradually crowd out slums apartment houses and apartment hotels, economizing labor in service, will house the people. "Flats houses" will be built in the country.

THE READY-MADE clothing trade of Leeds have given a remarkable suit to the Prince of Wales, and in these "carry on" democratic days he has to get to wear. Steady pay, good food, many currencies to make make a drab life. But ready-made clothing for a Prince of Wales—that is something that an ancient monarch would hardly have suggested in 1914.

Chicago, May 31.—The suicide of a World War veteran after seven weeks of treatment in Dr. George S. DeLong's sanatorium at Lombard, Ill., was being investigated today by authorities probing charges that two women and a man died from starvation and the "water cure" at the institution.

Buckner ended his life at the non-pistol after he had become delirious from treatment, his father declared.

Like the other three patients who died, the other Buckner said his son was made to take cold sprays daily from a powerful garden hose stream and was given little food.

Hitchins, scientist says disease will soon be diagnosed by photography. Curing is easy, diagnosing is difficult. "In your fingers and toes you can count the good diagnosticians in any city. Soon the doctor will take your photograph, instead of looking at your tongue, and say, 'The photograph shows scarlet fever.'"

Photography tells us about the stars, declares new news, catalogues the heavens, gives us the movies. Now it will show us to ourselves, diseases and all. Mr. Eastman will furnish film and camera.

MICHAEL MURPHY and Joseph O'Rourke were executed yesterday in Ireland for bank robbery. The Free State means to discourage crime.

We need not have criminals so freely, but this country might do something about oil cut-throats, racketeers and other green-backed sharks who send the lines more than all bank thieves and burglars and escape, thanks to lawyers as criminal as themselves.

If Mussolini were here, he would take one look at a group of swindlers and their lawyers, then send the swindlers to jail for twenty years, and their lawyers for life—not to make any more money.

Engagement Off When She Hears of Death of Her Pet Dog

Paris, May 31.—Henri Letellier, France's richest man, has been jilted by Peggy Joyce, by cable.

Using read a romantic story in a New York newspaper alleging that Henri was engaged to Betty Rossington, former Hollywood actress, Peggy sent a rush cable to Letellier which read:

"There is no use of my returning to France if you are engaged to this woman Betty."

Henri hurried a reply across the ocean, which said:

"It is news to me, but I suggest you see Betty, who is in New York."

In the meanwhile Peggy heard that her favorite lapdog, which she left in Letellier's care when she returned to America in 1932, had died, whereupon she sent another rush cable, to wit:

"Our engagement is off."

Henri said to a reporter:

"I am sorry because I regarded Peggy as one of the most remarkable women I ever met. I don't kill her dog."

TRUNK RUMORER HAS $100,000

New Information on Sinking of the John Dwight Starts a Further Probe

An international search for Captain Michael J. Carmichael of the rum ship John Dwight, sunk in Vineyard Sound with a loss of at least eight lives, was begun today.

Attorney General Jay C. Benton and United States District Attorney Robert O. Harris have joined forces in the search for Carmichael, who is believed to be in Cuba.

"We have information that Carmichael has been seen in Havana and elsewhere since the wreck of the Dwight," said Benton today. "It is certain his body was not among those recovered after the wreck."

"We also believe Carmichael had approximately $100,000 on his person when he left the sinking vessel."

State officers working on the case believe Carmichael, Captain John F. King and son of the "master-minds" of the run, running rig that operated the Dwight were the three men who were found at the private house of an estate on one of the islands, near where the vessel sank, the following morning in a disabled motor boat.

According to State Officer Deane, the keeper of the estate saw the men at the wharf. They asked him to help repair the disabled engine. He had no facilities at hand and took the men to Vineyard Haven in another boat with the broken motor boat.

The keeper recalls that the men showed no interest in the accident, except as Vineyard Haven is the finding of bodies from the wreck, and that one of the men told the machinist who was repairing the broken engine that he was a salesman for the firm that made the engine.

He took them back to their boat and they disappeared that night. It is probable that another diving operation is investigating the wreck of the Dwight will be organized at once.

COAL TO GO UP IF DELIVERIES ARE FORCED

Chairman Eusebio C. Hoffman of the State commission on necessities of life was warning today that while it is all right to order coal now, insistence on immediate delivery by the customers will force up prices against themselves.

There is more hard coal coming in from New England now than in any previous normal period, he said.

Miners are producing enough in a weekly basis to take care of the nation's needs. There is very little danger of a miners' strike this year. One reason is that the hard coal miners have a lot of extra work on hand, like they had last year, and so have no reason to demand a strike to keep prices up.

It is all right, says Mr. Hoffman, to order your coal now, but do not insist on immediate delivery, because all the coal you need for next winter is not in Massachusetts yet.

The result of this "buy early" campaign, he doubts, will be a coal boom.

He advises patience and caution so as not to play into the hands of any coal speculators.

The price of hard coal in Boston is $15 a ton. Coal which has been tried to get coal to meet instant demands of patrons and who have now into the open market buying coal from speculators have had to pay $2 a ton more than a fair price.

"The natural desire of the people," Mr. Hoffman added, "is to get in their winter's supply of anthracite after the experience of last winter and the two early consumers have not yet received their coal."

He said that the coal which has been ordered in many dealers having orders for more coal than they can physically deliver at the moment.

To attempt their supply the dealers have been bidding against one another for "spot" independent anthracite, the price of which has been boosted to about $2 a ton over the price of company coal.

Düsseldorf, May 31.—The Ruhr strikers, affecting a half million workers, have apparently all but run their courses. The men are returning to their jobs by the thousands, and it is predicted that by next week most of them will have as far recovered from the effects of the recent disturbances that they will go back to the plants.

London, May 31.—A Central News dispatch from Berlin says high officials of the German Government need the reparations plan of the industrialists as an incentive of acceptance because the conditions attached to it are not to the liking of the Social Democrats and the parties of the left. These groups are naturally object to abolition of the reparations plan.

'Abhors Pacifism, but Would Wipe Out "Black Plot of Greed"

Washington, May 31.—Surrounded by the living and the dead of three of the nation's armed conflicts, President Harding rededicated the government to the cause of peace, with a solemn promise that if war ever comes again, "The conscienceless profiteer" shall not put "the black blot of greed upon the righteous sacrifice" of America's youth.

The President was speaking to the thinning ranks of those in the blue, to their sons in the khaki of 1898 and grandsons of Plunder's fields in 1917, gathered in Arlington Memorial amphitheatre to pay their annual tribute to their comrades who fell in the country's defense.

His declared with great earnestness: "I devoutly wish the United States to do its full part toward making war unlikely, if not impossible.
While I would abhor a Pacificist America, I would rejoice to have the United States prove to be unafraid, and yet the most peace-loving and the foremost peace-promoting nation in all the world."

"We have already proven that we can have less of armament. Let us strive for the assurance that we shall have none of war."

"The one thing America can do alone to make war less likely and Lanshi much more of its latitudes if national honor must call its sons to arms," the President said, "is to forever put an end to industrial greed which has been incident to all conflicts of the past."

His emotion revealing long pent up indignation, he pleaded:
"God grant that no conflict will come again, but if it does it shall be without profit to the non-combatant participants except as they share in the triumphs of the nation."

Haverhill, May 31.—Preferring to die rather than be returned to a girls' reform school from which she was recently discharged, Alice was removed to the Gale Hospital,

WOMAN JUDGE FINDS OREN ENCOURAGES GIRLS TO CRIME

MRS. NORRIS SAYS U.S. LEADS WORLD IN COMBATING VICE

By CORINNE RICH.

Universal Service.

New York, May 31.—New York City and the United States are miles ahead of countries of the Far East in the matter of crime control, especially where women are concerned.

Thence they are looked at with no degree of alarm there and are not objects of reformation.

Margaret Jean H. Norris, New York's only woman judge, told me that today, just before she took her accustomed place on the bench in the woman's court.

She has been back only a few days from a four months' tour of the East, taken at her own expense to study social problems confronting the Orient.

"I found conditions unspeakable," she said. "In Japan, in China, in India, everywhere, the law sanctions crime among women, deriving large revenues from licensed crime."

"With the law on its side, crime runs rampant and the few movements on foot to combat conditions are in their infancy. It looks as if the law sanctions crime among women, deriving large revenues from licensed crime."

"There in New York and elsewhere in the United States the tendency is to protect women, to render them where possible, and to send young offenders back home to mother's."

NOT ALLOWED TO ESCAPE.

"In most cases," she said, "where a young girl runs away from home with the idea of earning her own living in the big city and is picked up, she is sent back home. If she were not picked up, she might fall in with evil companions and so spoil her life."

"But in the East large numbers of girls are educated for crime and know nothing else. If they did, they would not be allowed to escape. In my rambles I ran into appalling conditions, too frightful for description."

Aside from the serious part of the trip, Judge Norris' tour was a series of teas and dinners with the high and mighty of every land.

9 IRISH TRIED FOR SEDITION IN LONDON

London, May 31.—Wearing "Good Luck" buttons of white beads, nine Irish desperadoes appeared in the dock in Bow Street Court to answer to charges of seditious conspiracy.

During the hearing counsel for the prosecution declared that Art O'Brien's bank account showed a deposit of $25,000 in United States notes.

Evidence was given tending to show the connection of the defendants with Rory O'Connor's Irish republicanism.

Poison Victim

MRS. C. B. HALEY

DRINKS POISON ON 20 WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

New York, May 31.—Downed by her father and desecrated by her own hand Mrs. Chas. Haley, twenty years old, a show girl, drank poison on the twentieth anniversary of her wedding. She is dying at the Bellevue Hospital.

The girl drank the poison in a furnished room where she was living, she told authorities she had not ever home in Houston, Texas, two years ago and came here to take her place in a musical comedy show.

She met a man named Haley in her company and married him in spite of the protest of her father. The latter, when he learned of her marriage, disowned her. A short time later her husband disappeared. Left alone the girl struggled alone, she said, until last week when she lost her job. She said the thought of being alone on her wedding anniversary prompted her to attempt suicide.

SEEK TO SETTLE SHOE STRIKE BY ARBITRATION

Brooklyn, May 31.—Officials of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union are holding a series of conferences with loyal members forced out of work by the strike, in an effort to arrange for settlement of the shoe operatives' strike by arbitration.

Manufacturers are confident the number of strikers who will return to work this week will steadily increase. A large number of lasters are expected to return to work tomorrow throughout the entire shoe manufacturing district.

Leaders of the "outlaw" union are confident the plans of the manufacturers and of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union for a settlement in the near future will not materialize. More than a thousand picketers are on duty today at the factory entrances attempting to dissuade operatives from returning to their benches.

The strikers, in a series of meetings, have formulated plans for continuing the strike as long as it is necessary to bring the manufacturers to terms with the new union, the Brooklyn District shoe Workers' Association.

The Elverson Shoe Company factory in Rockland will soon be forced to close because of the strike. 2,000 lasters, it is reported. The same condition is said to be true in Avon and Randolph, where the lasters went on strike Tuesday. The lasters in Middleboro are momentarily expected to walk out.

G. O. P. SPLIT ON WORLD COURT WIDENS

Washington, May 31.—The latest statement of Chairman John T. Adams of the Republican National Committee, revealing those within the party organization who are opposing to drag the United States into foreign entanglements in violation of the popular verdict which elected President Harding, is the big topic of political interest.

Partisans of both parties are convinced that the views so strongly expressed by the Republican chairman will cause a break which cannot be healed except by abandonment of the World Court issue by the President.

Indirectly this statement was aimed at the President, but more specifically it was intended for Secretary of State Charles G. Dawes, chief sponsor in the President's Cabinet of the World Court idea.

The Democratic National Committee, in a statement issued by Chairman Corbin Hull, declared that Adams has defied both the President and the House in the matter of the foreign policy of the administration.

This view is shared by irreconcilables in the Senate, many of whom are persistently charging over Adams' abandonment of the national committee's attitude.

Chairman Adams' statement also seemed to revive rumors of a possible reorganization of the Republican committee with the President's backing upon the return of Will H. Hays to the chairmanship.

At the same time Republican leaders in Congress are backing up Adams and a fight to overthrow him in the committee would not be won easily.

Spirits 'Warn' Doyle That Big Disaster Faces World

San Francisco, May 31.—Sir A. Conan Doyle says he has received a spirit message from Lord Northcliffe saying that only a wave of spiritual reform can save the world from plunging headlong into a catastrophe which will make the World War seem insignificant.

"The American people," Lord Northcliffe's message said, "are too busy. That was the mistake I made in my lifetime. I was too busy then, but I understand now that wisdom is lost in the scramble for material progress."

SLAYER OF TWO POLICEMEN IS KILLED

North Bay, Ont., May 31.—A posse killed "Red Lee" Rogers after the desperado had shot to death Sergeant Urquhart of the provincial police when the latter and a party of police attempted to capture him.

Rogers was shot as he emerged from the woods near Nipissing. He had killed two policemen and wounded one since his escape from court by flashing a pistol made of cardboard. He was on trial for a minor offense.

Sergeant Urquhart, the latest victim of the fugitive, with three constables had trailed Rogers to the home of his aged father in a little cabin near here. They stole into the house, using pocket pistols. As Urquhart reached the upper landing he was instantly killed by a volley from Rogers.

The others retreated and while planning a sloop Rogers, however, escaped in the night. He was then trailed to the woods.

NEW SUSPECT REVIVES PROBE OF HALL MURDER MYSTERY

DETECTIVES SHATTER ALIBIS

Husband of Slain Choir Singer Declares He Can Still Prove His Own Innocence

New York, May 31.—Investigation into the murder at New Brunswick, N. J., of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, it was learned today, has turned the suspicions of the authorities toward a man who had been eliminated early in the case.

"We are a break in the case in the name of the 'dirt' advised a Middlesex county investigator. Not in Somerset county an official decided this suggestion, saying 'We are still working on the case and are hopeful, but it doesn't look as though there will be any results right away. The evidence is not strong enough to warrant a belief in an arrest at any time.'

HEAVY ALIBI FALSE
Officials of both counties are jointly probing new angles in the case.

The evidence adduced since the commission created by the case died down and gave way to interest in other mysteries has been of a negative character, in that it has broken down, to the satisfaction of the authorities, the story of Mrs. Jane Wilson.

The detectives have received information leading them to believe the alibi presented by the man they now suspect is false.

James Mills, husband of the murdered choir singer, complained bitterly in an interview of the failure of the authorities to make an arrest.

"I know who they're driving at when they talk about alibi," he said. "My wife left the house that night at 7:30, refusing to tell me where she was going and saying that I'd have to follow her if I wanted to find out her destination."

HUSBAND IS ROUSED.
"I told the authorities I remained home until late that night, not leaving the house, until I went to the church to look for my wife in the early morning. The murder hour had been placed at around 8:30. At that time I was in the house and can prove it by two witnesses."

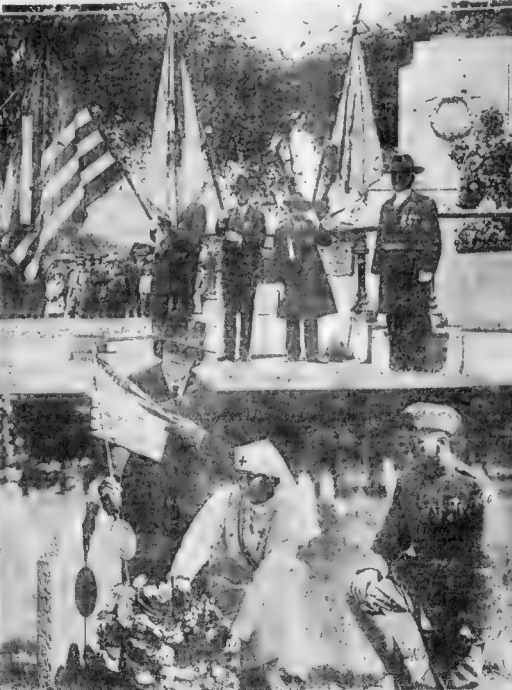

"One man saw me in the house at 8 o'clock. A woman told me the detective the last time she saw me was 10 o'clock, and I was in the house. But they didn't ask if she saw me earlier in the night if they had asked her that she would have told them I was around the house at 8:30."

"They have been talking about my wife being cut with a peculiar kind of a knife, because of the nature of the alibi. I had no knife of a peculiar make. That slash could have been made with any kind of a knife."

"My idea at the start, as it is now, was that all the members of my family should have been arrested right away, and Mrs. Hall, her brothers and her cousin should have been arrested right away, too. Then it would be up to all of us to fight our way free."

The VETERAN MOTORIST gives a few rules of the road

"SOMEONE HAS SAID THAT 'IF' is the biggest little word in the language. If a very close friend of mine had used his head on a certain day, he wouldn't have knocked a school boy down and come within an ace of crippling him for life.

"It was queer, that day, about Jerry. Usually, a good, cool, level-headed driver. But, somehow, his attention must have been wandering, and as the kid ran out in front of him—he did the wrong thing. And he was upset about it for months after.

"His insurance company settled up the case in due time. But Jerry said something to me after it was all over that set me to thinking and I'll never forget it. Said he: 'My liability insurance protected me, but it didn't protect that boy. It paid the doctor's bills but it didn't help that youngster's suffering one iota.'

"I'd never thought of it in just that way before, but I have ever since. Youngsters are careless at times and it's up to us motorists to make up for what they lack by using more than ordinary care when they're around."

"More than ordinary care shall be exercised by the driver of a motor vehicle when nearing a school from any direction. A 'school zone', that section of a highway directly in front of and usually 100 feet to the left and right of the school."

AN AUTOMOBILE IS NOT A LUXURY

The automobile is no longer a luxury. It is a pleasure—a very great pleasure, but it is also an asset.

Nowadays no man who has a car uses it for pleasure only. He uses it in his business, for it is a wonderful time-saver and co-actor. Thousands of men make their motor cars pay for themselves several times over.

Every motor car used to cost a large sum of money. But now a fine car very often requires a modest sum. There are some dandy used cars going at very low prices in today's

Lawyer Declares the Children Looked Down on the Man Who Ruled Tammany

Dublin, May 31 (A.P.)—The contest over the will of the late Richard Crocker opened today, before Chief Justice Mahoney and a special jury, with a statement by Sergeant Hanna, counsel for the widow, that the plea of a previous marriage of Mrs. Bula Crocker would really be the question on which the case would be fought.

Mrs. E. P. O'Neil, who is Crocker's daughter, has alleged that Richard Crocker was already married to Gay E. Mahoney and convinced that fact when she went through the prior marriage ceremony with the former Tammany chairman.

Attorney Hanna declared that the relation between the elder Crocker and his former had been such that the children, he said, looked down on their father as unfit to take a place in New York society through lack of culture and because of his harsh origin. He went on to recount the life history of the Tammany leader, his difference with his family and his second marriage to a woman of thirty years when he met in New York.

In 1914, the attorney continued, Mr. Crocker made a will in New York leaving everything to his son, Richard. In 1915 in Ireland he made a will leaving each child $50,000, with the balance of the estate to his widow.

Mrs. Crocker, added the lawyer, would give evidence of violent quarrels between father and son in New York, in 1915.

BEAL'S ESTATE GOES TO WIFE AND SONS

According to the will of Thomas P. Beal, former president of the Second National Bank, which was filed today in the Suffolk Probate court, the entire estate with the exception of $100,000 is left to his widow and two sons. The First Parish Church of Kingston is to receive the $100,000 in memory of Mr. Beal's mother. The estate probably totals more than a million.

St. Johnsbury has been visited by seven fires in the past two months, two of them causing $100,000 losses and all starting about the same time in the early morning. It is believed the fires are work of an incendiary.

What is the matter with your home that it does not possess the charm for you that it did in the beginning?

Have you ceased to be congenial to your life partner? Or has he or she ceased to be congenial to you?

If this is the condition in your home there is a cause.

Truthfully speaking, have you not had a part in bringing about this result? Can you truly say that your partner is a bummer?

When you try to do so, you will find the cause which really wrongs.

Remember your life wife or your stalwart husband is turning out to be different from what you expected.

Are you not different also from even your own expectations of what you would be in married life?

Do you expect perfection when you are not perfect yourself? There are bound to be some rough areas in wedded life, but a few storms need not wreck your matrimonial craft.

Never has its existence—storming and tearing—been so bad as then a calm.

You never to forget that you both are human in nature, and nature has a good example in the natural world for you to follow, not question.
